Chapter 1 – How the Middle Class got Screwed

---

Dear Concerned Citizen,

Do you sometimes find yourself feeling weird about where things are going?

Like you can't put your finger directly on it, but "making a living" just feels like it's getting harder and harder and you're pretty powerless and stuck inside a system you can't control?

Maybe you're worried about affording college for your kids or paying your mortgage, or maybe you're frustrated by the fact that the stable, comfortable lifestyle your parents had, seems impossible for you to attain...

...or maybe you once had that stable, comfortable lifestyle and now, no matter how much you try, you just can seem to make ends meet?

Does this sound familiar?

I bet it does.

Do you blame yourself?

Well, don't.

What I'm about to reveal to you will show you that it hasn't been your fault.

Because, for the past forty years the entire middle class has gotten slowly, surely, purposefully, and systematically... screwed.

HOW THE MIDDLE CLASS GOT SCREWED

Here's how it all started..

In the 1950s and 60s, a family could do pretty well on just one income. And that one job or career lasted until retirement.

One parent worked, and that was usually enough to buy a home, a car, send the kids to college, and retire comfortably.

Maybe even to take a nice vacation and travel once per year or so...

...but by the mid 1970s, the screwing had begun.

Most families didn't know they were getting screwed.

They just knew that one income was no longer enough.

So the second parent, usually mom, had to go to work to maintain the same standard of living. Sure, some folks entered the work force by choice, but all too often, it was an economic necessity.

Both parents working, meant added costs for childcare, as the price of a home, a car, an education and health care began to sky rocket.

By the 1980s, even with two incomes, the average American family still couldn't make ends meet.

What could they do?

Well, most people thought, "If we just work harder..."

So, both parents started working longer and longer hours creating an army of "latch-key-kids" - but even THAT wasn't enough to keep up with how fast we were being economically enslaved.

Middle class families were left with no choice but to take out huge loans to pay for college and housing.

Eventually they were forced to put health care, their car, even basic living expenses on high interest credit cards and loans.

So, where did this leave the average American middle class citizen?

Screwed.

Financially enslaved. Predatory lending and hard core psychological advertising created an addiction to consumerism and revolving debt.

The new plantation. The new peasant class. The middle class was domesticated, enslaved and commoditized.

They were left fearing for their finances, and fearing for the future of their children.

And very, very deep in terminal debt.

Because, while the middle class was busting its collective ass to keep up, a certain, small percentage of career politicians, global banksters and multi-national corporation CEOs were getting very, very rich indeed.

Chapter 2 – The Game was Rigged

That's right, the game was rigged.

It was rigged by socialists, communists, globalists, corporate fascists and other ruling class elites. They made people believe they were battling each other, when in fact they all supported the very same policies used to destroy the middle class.

For the last several decades, these people in charge have made a dramatic shift from the values and policies that made our country great.

Instead, they've set policies that have rewarded the ruling elite, and stuck working families with the bill.

In fact in just one example that makes this easy to understand, let's take the trend of having the "government" subsidize and provide the funding to build a new billion dollar sports stadium in your city...

Whenever you hear the phrase "government funded" or "government subsidized" or "government backed" or "government supported" what do you think that really means?

Here's what it means...

It means "Government" = You, the tax payer.

Whenever you hear that the "government" paid for something, it simply means the cost was shifted to you and your neighbors to pay with your taxes.

So when, for instance, the "government" in New Jersey is used, to pay to build a $60,000,000 (60 million) dollar stadium..

It means that YOU (the taxpayer) is the "government" that is paying for it.

Then you get to pay the jacked up ticket prices to attend the games and the high fees for parking and the $10 burgers, hotdogs and $9 beer.

You pay for everything.

The owners get all the profits.

The politicians get the contributions of cash (millions) from the owners for their reelection campaigns...

...and, in the case of New Jersey, who got the tax payers (middle class) to pay $60,000,000 to build "The Meadowlands" stadium, what happened after?

Well, years later, they tore the stadium down to build yet, another one.. and the original stadium is now just a parking lot... BUT...

The "government" (you) is still paying for it. They now owe (because of interest on the financing) over $100,000,000 (100 million dollars) still outstanding. And it's just a parking lot now!

That's just one of the thousands of ways the middle class gets screwed.

Let's talk about a little thing called, "Income Equality..."
Back in the good ole days, CEOs earned maybe 15-20 times more than their workers.
Today?

They're making an average of 300 times more.

"This is CRAZY," you say.

How could they have gotten away with this?

Well, it certainly wasn't by putting "the people's" interests first.

One way the big corporations started earning more money was by eliminating jobs in the US and taking them overseas.

CEOs complained that American wages were "too high" so they moved the jobs to countries with no minimum wage or no rules to protect worker's safety or the environment.

The unions became fat, rich (off the worker's dues), and corrupt. They started working seemingly in collusion with corporate owners to screw the workers too.

It's easy to forget that a lot of the rights we take for granted like, weekends, and 40 hour work weeks, were won by the unions, before political power, greed and corruption changed them.

Because of this, and despite that crucial legacy, the number of union members has dropped off dramatically. People began to see that they were just being screwed from all angles.

So now when CEOs want to force lower wages, cut benefits, ship more jobs overseas, and give themselves huge raises, there's no one there to fight back.

The closer you look, the more you realize the people screwing the middle class use a revolving door to work in all areas that are causing the situation to get worse:

The politicians leave politics and go work as lobbyists, the lobbyists become politicians, or union bosses and the lobbyists and politicians then become bankers, and corporation CEOs and executives.

If you look a little deeper, they are all the same people and everyone is in cahoots. They are your "Ruling Elite."

It turns out that with all this collusion and consolidation of political, labor and economic power of the ruling class, we all just get easier and easier to screw.

What about taxes?

In the days of "I Love Lucy," and black and white movies, the idea that the very rich could afford to pay more in taxes than the middle class was accepted on a bipartisan level.

Presidents from Eisenhower to Nixon believed in progressive taxation, as a matter of simple equity and justice. Even relatively recently presidential hopefuls such as Steve Forbes and others have agreed on trying to shift to a more ethical and just "flat tax."

But, taxes for the ruling elites and crony global capitalists have come down at a continuous pace since the 1960s...

...which would be fine, except that the middle class has been left to pick up the tab (again). Real wages have consistently decreased, while an ever growing variety of taxes have steadily increased for the middle class.

Chapter 3 – And the Rich Get Richer...

Are you starting to recognize a trend here?

That's right.

It turns out, there's a reason the ruling elite and the ultra rich get richer...

...mainly because they're not paying their fair share (or any) taxes at all. And they have created laws that make it impossible for you, as a working and middle class citizen to escape from paying the extortion amounts of taxes levied on you.

For instance, while a hedge fund manager is making millions in fees and income which they have a variety of loopholes to shield from income taxes, he's likely paying a lower tax rate than his secretary, who's making only a few thousand.

And major companies like ExxonMobil, BP, KPMG and hundreds of others make billions each quarter but somehow don't end up with any tax liability at the end of the year.

How do they accomplish this?

By sending high-priced lobbyists to Washington, DC to help rewrite the tax code and rig it in their favor and against you.

Those bastards! I know.

Look, Wall St. is all about investments and ROI.

And probably one of the most lucrative investments they've ever made has been in Washington, DC.

Over $1,000,000 a day on lobbying alone.

And that investment in the form of these lobbyists has been really productive.

Not only have they made their taxes disappear, but they've changed the whole rule book on what's legal.

Before the crash of 2008, the rush to make outrageous profits with no threat of regulation lead to more creative (immoral and criminal) investment products..

...as a result, lending became more and more predatory.

Which lead to a "gold rush" mentality until the bubble, inevitably, burst.

And at the same time that they were making these dubious investments, the big banks developed a business model designed to fleece every last penny from their customers.

That meant $40 overdraft fees, outrageous interest rates. It meant charging $3.00 to use another bank's ATM when the actual cost to them was pennies.

Back in the day, we had laws that kept banks from charging outrageous interest rates, and actually protected consumers.

But that was just peanuts.

When the bubble burst...

When their criminally irresponsible activities against the middle class caused a global, economic meltdown the likes that this world had never seen...

They used the politicians they had bought and carried in their back pockets to use YOUR MONEY to bail them out.

Remember, "government bailouts" simply mean YOUR MONEY, your hard earned income that they begin to have to tax at higher and higher levels is the very source of the funds they use to bail them out.

So let's just get this straight:

First, they create ways to rip you off.

Second, they create political ways to tax you more.

Third, they used predatory lending and derivatives to rip you more.

Fourth, they collapse the economy by ripping you off too much.

Fifth, they "bail themselves out" with your money again!

Sixth, they "write off" expenses, taxes and bad debts.

Seventh, the "governments" then collects from you (IRS).

So basically these ruling elites don't just screw you one time...
THEY NEVER STOP SCREWING YOU!

So, here we are...

Totally screwed (over and over again).

It wasn't an accident, and it wasn't destiny.

The middle class was slowly shafted by a tiny group of ultra powerful, ultra rich, ruling elites that own, control and manipulate the whole entire system.

A small group of powerful and wealthy people, politicians, global banksters and corporations who were able to make the government work for them, and not for the vast majority of the American people.

Chapter 4 – The Real Problem

---

Feel like fighting back?

I thought so.

Well, look... there are a lot of very rich, powerful people who have really enjoyed screwing everyone over and buying new yachts and third vacation homes.

And since those people are the ones who got us here, it's not going to be their theories that lead us out of this mess.

The solutions are going to have to come from all of us.

We're going to have to come up with solutions that give you back your power and allow you to take care of the #1 real problem that causes all your distress...

...a real problem that you can actually control and solve.

The middle classes #1 main (fixable) problem is:

A LACK OF PERSONAL CASH FLOW.

We're going to have to fix the situation that let Wall St. and the ruling elites play by one set of rules, while the rest of us play by another and get screwed.

We're going to have to be creative and think outside the box and not get bogged down in "doom and gloom" or in "activism" that leads to absolutely nowhere.

And we have to start now.

Here's how...

HOW THE MIDDLE CLASS REBUILDS

It's a big challenge.

But the good news is...

There are a heck of a lot more of us than there are of them. And that means we can win this battle.

And the solutions are sitting right under our noses...

In fact, the very tools that contain our solutions are sitting (literally) right in the palm of our hands most of the day...

We won't get screwed anymore.

It's time for all of us to ban together and rebuild the American dream and the dream of the middle class all over the world.

It's about building our Freedom and Liberty.

And making it accessible for everybody.

What you can do right now to shield yourself from economic slavery in four steps:

1. Learn to create a pipeline of "off the grid" cash flow right now. Learn about www.SimpleFreedomEasy.com here.
2. Create as much passive cash flow as you possibly can and get rid of any debt as fast as you can. Pay it off. Use BK, whatever it takes. They get "bailouts" but what do you get?
3. MULTIPLY that cash flow. Put that cash to work by learning how to trade it and invest it for steady gains and compound interest. Learn about www.SimpleFreedomAcademy.com here.
4. Share this plan with other good people so awareness and the resistance gets stronger. Get free by helping other to wake up and get free. You have to FIGHT BACK. They'll never stop screwing you. If you don't fight back, you're screwed.

The Real Problem Facing the Middle Class.

It's NOT what they tell you it is.

The biggest real problem the middle class faces is NOT taxes, NOT losing jobs, NOT student loans, NOT credit card debt and certainly NOT their local, state or national politicians.

Politicians can't do anything to you or for you.

They have puppet masters. Your political party affiliation is NOT your problem or your solution either.

YES, all of these things are serious problems, but there is one huge problem that you actually have control over.

The biggest difference between you, if you're in the middle class, and the rich, who keep getting astronomically richer and richer as you get your ass handed to you and get poorer and poorer is ONE simple thing:

LACK OF CASH FLOW.

The rich and financially successful own or have access to systems, skills and vehicles that create cash flow for them while you only have (typically), access to the same old obsolete means of generating cash flow: (you still think the only way to make money is to beg an employer for a pittance wage by begging for) jobs, careers and tiny mom and pop traditional businesses or professions.

Rich people just create way more cash than you because they have access to other models.

Rich people are not your enemy.

There is a massive difference between rich, wealthy good people and the Global Elite bastards. The "evil rich" I talk about are Global, Multi-National Elitist Ultra Super Rich.

The problem is NOT how much expenses you have or how much taxes you pay, rather your biggest problem is that you probably just don't have a legitimate way to create as much free flowing CASH as the rich.

Here's how to prove it...

Be honest.

If you were receiving, on top of your current salary or wages, a free and clear additional $1,000 every month, how much more improved would your life be right now?

Would you be as stressed and worried about your financial future?

Would you be paying off your debt in big chunks?

Would you be living in a location of your choice?

Would you have the ability to help others more and have more freedom and true liberty in your life?

Are other people to blame?

Are other people the core of your financial problems?

Illegals, legals, whites, blacks, asians?

Are they truly the cause of your situation or your financial problems? No, they're not.

If you were creating more cash flow in your life, you wouldn't blame other people for any of your problems.

They're not keeping you from earning more... the reason you're not creating ten times more cash flow in your life is just because of a lack of knowledge and awareness, that's all.

How about those nasty politicians? What if your party's candidate was President instead?

No. Politicians are NOT your immediate problem.

You don't have a political problem because no matter who is in the White House or what color their skin is, which side of the aisle they come from or what their gender is...

NOTHING they do can "save you" from what has been happening for decades now because there is NOTHING they can do or legislate that can put enough cash in your pocket to make a difference.

And that's GREAT NEWS.

Here's why...

If your biggest problem right now is simply a lack of being able to create cash flow, then the core cause of that "situation" is KNOWLEDGE and VEHICLE related.

You simply haven't been taught that there are simple solutions, you can plug into right now, that are proven effective in creating the cash flow you need to protect yourself in this economy.
